

AMDEX Assists Walter Reed Army Medical Center to Support U.S. Soldiers

Silver Spring, Maryland, May 15, 2010

AMDEX Corporation, a CMMI Level 3 rated, IT and Professional services firm, completed its latest volunteer project with the U.S. Army Volunteer Corps (AVC) where nearly half of the AMDEX Headquarters staff, along with their family and friends, spent a Saturday at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center creating a warm and inviting atmosphere for the U.S. soldiers at the Family Fun Fest. The AVC is a government agent for enhancing the well-being of U.S. Soldiers and their families through volunteer work.

AMDEX staff and other volunteers had the opportunity to setup equipment, staff food stations, and greet and escort guests at the event.

Darla L. Haines, Army Volunteer Corps Program Manager, sent the following message to the AMDEX team, "The ACS Team really appreciates the generosity and professionalism you had shown throughout the day to our soldiers, family members, and staff."

Participating in the Walter Reed event came as the latest project for the AMDEX Community Outreach Program. As a fundamental component of the company mission and philosophy, the AMDEX Community Outreach Program aims to substantially improve the communities where AMDEX employees both work and live. AMDEX staff seeks out opportunities where the company can make unique and positive contributions through community involvement in the Washington, DC metropolitan area. This includes participating or organizing a monthly event such as providing contributions to homeless shelters, staffing food drives and many more. Recently, AMDEX has partnered with American Heart Association, Holy Cross Hospital, Walter Reed Army Medical Center, University Hospital in Boston, Habitat for Humanity, and Bethesda Cares, Inc.

"The AMDEX team is always actively searching for opportunities to give back to the community," said Devinder K. Singh, President and CEO, AMDEX Corporation. "I can imagine no better way to spend this Saturday than with friends and family while helping our soldiers." Always eager to serve their community, the AMDEX team looks forward to the next Community Outreach Program event.
